The Answer to How Is Yes by Peter Block Modern culture's worship of "how-to" pragmatism has turned us into instruments of efficiency and commerce—but we're doing more and more about things that mean less and less. We constantly ask "how?" and still struggle to find purpose and act on what matters. Instead of acting on what we know to be of importance, we wait for bosses to change, we seek the latest fad, we invest in one more degree. Asking how keeps us safe—instead of being led by our hearts into uncharted territory, we keep our heads down and stick to the rules. But we are gaining the world and losing our souls.	2	$20.00	https://www.amazon.com/Answer-How-Yes-Acting-Matters/dp/1576752712
Begin Again by Eddie S. Glaude, Jr. James Baldwin grew disillusioned by the failure of the civil rights movement to force America to confront its lies about race. In our own moment, when that confrontation feels more urgently needed than ever, what can we learn from his struggle?	0	$15.00	https://www.amazon.com/Begin-Again-Baldwins-America-Lessons/dp/0525575324

Belonging Through a Culture of Dignity by Floyd Cobb and John Krownapple While efforts to achieve equity in education are prominent in school districts across this country, the effective implementation that results in meaningful change remains elusive. In Belonging through a Culture of Dignity, Cobb and Krownapple argue that the cause of these struggles are largely based on the failure of educators to consider the foundational elements upon which educational equity is based, belonging and dignity.	4	$25.00	https://www.amazon.com/Belonging-Through-Culture-Dignity-Implementation-ebook/dp/B081D7H6JM

Blindspot: Hidden Biases of Good People by Anthony Greenwald and Mahzarin Banaji I know my own mind. I am able to assess others in a fair and accurate way. "Blindspot" is the authors' metaphor for the portion of the mind that houses hidden biases. Writing with simplicity and verve, Banaji and Greenwald explain the science that shapes our likes and dislikes and our judgments about people's character, abilities and potential. The book uses the Implicit Association Test, a method that has revolutionized the way scientists learn about the human mind and that gives us a glimpse into what lies within the blindspot. The "good people" in the subtitle refers to all of us who strive to align our behavior with our intentions.	2	$14.00	https://www.amazon.com/Blindspot-Hidden-Biases-Good-People-ebook/dp/B004J4WJUC
