SOESD's NEW On-Demand Online Courses Are Just a Click Away!

SOESD is developing a series of on-demand, online courses that will allow you to participate in meaningful, relevant and interesting professional learning anytime, all the time.

Our first on-demand course--Multi-Tiered System of Support--is available now. This course includes four modules. Participants have the option of delving into any or all of the modules that align with their interests and/or work role. Each module is worth one professional development unit.

Multi-Tiered System of Support

Overview

Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) is a framework for how districts and schools can build an effective, efficient, high-quality educational experience where every student thrives.

The goal of this four-module course is to deepen your understanding of Multi-Tiered System of Support to enable you to recognize strengths that currently exist within your system and identify elements that can enhance what you are doing to continue to build a system that supports each and every student's academic, behavior, attendance and social-emotional needs.

Participants will:

- Develop a shared understanding of Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) language and structures is essential to success
- Understand how MTSS is an integrated systemic framework
- Identify aspects of an MTSS as an early detection and prevention system
- Building understanding of common MTSS strategies including:
 - Data -based decision making
 - Evidence-based instruction
 - Differentiated supports
 - Shared responsibility
 - Continuous Improvement
